Mr. Hyun Chan Jung is a member of the Human Rights Management Team and the Compliance Team at Jipyong. He provides comprehensive services with respect to human rights management, human rights impact assessment, and response to corporate human rights benchmark (CHRB) assessment. He also advises clients on their response to the assessment of the supply chain management system on human rights risks (so-called 'Know the Chain') and the remedy procedures for human rights violations. In addition, he conducts research on due diligence and human rights impact assessment. Based on his extensive experience and network accumulated in international organizations and civic groups, Mr. Jung helps major companies establish human rights management.
